

Introduction

This chapter presents statistical information on radio and television programmes, press, books, public libraries, cinemas, museums, monuments, tourists arrived, and pilgrims of holy places. The following paragraphs summarize the history of data collection in these areas.

Regular data compilation on radio and television programmes and museums began in the years 1345 and 1347, respectively.

The earliest data on movies available in the Statistical Centre of Iran dates back to the year 1348. They were produced by the Culture and Art Ministry, renamed the Ministry of Culture and Islamic Guidance after the victory of the Islamic Revolution.

The Statistical Centre of Iran first undertook comprehensive data collection on the press under the title of "The Survey of the country's publications" in the year 1349. Currently, the Domestic Press Department of the Ministry of Culture and Islamic Guidance is in charge of the task.

The establishment of the National Iranian Tourist Organization in the year 1342 was the starting point of data production on tourism. However, the Organization took advantage of existing records in the archives of such government organizations as the offices of Customs Administration and Passport and other related resources to collect information for the years 1331 to 1342, included in the 1345 statistical yearbook for the first time.

Data on the number of visitors to museums and historical monuments, however, were collected until the end of the year 1382 by the General Department of Museums affiliated with the Cultural Heritage Organization, covering some of the museums and monuments. Since that time, due to the merging of the Cultural Heritage Organization and Iran Touring and Tourism Organization into a newly established organization called "Cultural Heritage and Tourism Organization" and after that the "Ministry of Cultural Heritage, Tourism and Handicrafts", the related data have been provided by that Ministry.

Data on the pilgrims of holy places includes only those dispatched by the Hajj and Pilgrimage Organization.

Definitions and concepts

Production of radio and television programmes:

This is a process in which the contextual and structural components of the message are technically incorporated by using the required resources to produce a programme to be broadcast on TV, radio, and the internet.

National radio and television channels: These are responsible for producing and broadcasting programs for the general population of the country.

Provincial (Ostani) radio and television channels: These refer to radio or TV channels that produce and broadcast programs for the audiences of a province (Ostan) according to the characteristics of that province (language, ethnicity, etc.).

Radio Monasebati (Occasional radio): This refers to a radio that produces and broadcasts various programmes on important national and religious occasions and events such as Moharram, Arbaeen, Daheyeh Fajr, elections, etc., or according to the necessities and important overseas events such as the Gaza war, axis of resistance, etc.

Animation: This is a movie that is made by animating fixed images or objects.

Combined program: This is a program that consists of different parts and uses different formats such as interviews, reports, anthems, animation and puppet show programs. The message of each part can be different from the other parts and includes two types of combined show and combined non-show programs.

News: This is the reflection of events that have one or more informational values for audiences. News is divided into four types: production, reception, coverage and integration.

Puppetry: This is a form of theatre in which the actors/actresses are puppets and are performed (animated or manipulated) by puppeteers.

Film: This is a series of images recorded on celluloid tapes, magnetic tapes, optical discs, or other technologies that induce motion when played back.

Serial: These are connected episodes of shows that are produced in different parts for television or home video.

Radio or TV report: This is a report, an independent program or a part of a program in which a specific event or topic is reflected to the audiences without prejudice from the reporter.

Television competition: This is a program in which the participants are asked questions in general or specialized fields. Its purpose is to entertain, educate, increase information, and create competition for the participants and the audience.

Documentary film: This is a non-fiction film in which the subject, images, people, or concepts presented in it are real or based on reality and have the ability to be referenced.

Show: This is visual and audio art that is performed by an artist or a group of artists (actors/actresses) within a specific time frame and in front of an audience. It is divided into genres such as tragedy, comedy, melodrama, tragicomedy, and Fars (a joyful traditional show).

Spectator (audience) of artwork: This refers to a person who observes or watches the productions of artworks in spaces and places where cultural-artistic works are presented for acquaintance and recognition, pleasure, fun and entertainment.

Music This refers to the art of organizing sounds in time based on aesthetics, which dominates every musical culture and aims to please human nature.

Stage music performance (concert): This is a prearranged musical program that is performed live for a group of audiences.

Cinema: This is a place authorized by the Iranian Organization of Cinema and Audiovisual Affairs with suitable area and building features, technical and safety standards, consisting of one or more halls for playing movies, a waiting hall, a prayer room, an administrative division, a box office, a projection room, bathrooms, and a buffet.

Film viewer (audience): This is a person who buys a ticket from the cinema box office and other legitimate virtual platforms.

Film production: This comprises the process of producing a film from the stage of screenwriting, selection of production factors (producer, screenwriter, director, actor/actress, cameraman, etc.), film technical stages (cinematography, editing, dubbing, developing, and printing) to the production of a final copy of the film for making available on the screen.

Film Festival: This is a cultural event in which films are shown at a certain time and place, based on the policies announced by the organizer, with competitive or non-competitive goals.

Printed media (the press): They are publications that are published regularly with a fixed title, date, and issue number in the form of printed papers in various political, social, scientific, sports, artistic, etc. fields. The press is classified as daily, weekly, monthly, quarterly, bi-quarterly, and yearly in terms of release orders. It is also classified as general and specialized in view of content, and as local, national, provincial, regional, and international in terms of distribution scope. Additionally, it is classified as public and specific in terms of readers, such as children, teenagers, young adults, and women.

Concessionaire of a publication: This is a legal or natural person whose qualification is approved by the Press Supervisory Board, and the Ministry of Culture and Islamic Guidance issues the license of the publication in his/her name. The concessionaire is considered the owner of the publication and is responsible for the general policy of the publication.

Publication: This is any kind of written or pictured material that is published in printed or electronic (online and offline) formats under a fixed name, date, and successive issue in various forms at the local, provincial, regional or national level in a specific publication order.

Library: This is a physical or non-physical space (independent or affiliated with an organization) that collects and organizes various types of sources and is accessible to users through the services provided by the librarian.

Book: This is a text that is produced in a handwritten, printed, electronic or audio format and is released independently and non-periodically.

Manuscript book: This is an old book that is handwritten and not printed.

Lithography book: This is a book that was printed using the stone printing method (planographic printmaking process). Lithography is a type of printing that uses marble stone (calcium carbonate) on metal plates instead of letters or carving tools. It is based on the immiscibility and mutual repulsion of oil and water. Lithograph books have similarities with manuscripts, such as gilding (illumination), Tash'eer (a term and a method in Iranian gilding and painting that is used in the arrangement of books or pieces of calligraphy, miniatures, and anthology), fine binding, pagination (paging), tabulation, title page, author, and date of writing. However, due to the limitations of lithography, the variety and abundance of gilding in them is less than in manuscripts.

Exquisite book: This is a book whose materials used in its production, such as paper and color, its appearance, and content, have material and spiritual value. Books with limited editions and vintage books, known as national written heritage, are classified as exquisite books.

Printed book: This is a book whose content is typewritten and published on paper using the knowledge and technology of the printing industry.

Cultural and Artistic Centre of the Institute for Intellectual Development of Children and Young Adults:

This is where one or more cultural and artistic activities, such as book lending, storytelling, painting, handicrafts, and showing movies to children and teenagers, are provided.

Members of the cultural and artistic centers of the Institute for Intellectual Development of Children and Young Adults: They are children and young adults aged 6 to 18 who benefit from the center's cultural and artistic services. They are considered members of these centers.

Circulation: This is the number of copies of a publication published or reproduced at one time.

First edition: This is the first publication of a complete copy of a book.

New edition: This is the reprinting of a book without a change in the content or with a new edition of the original text.

Authoring (writing) a book: It refers to writing a book that is the result of the author's thought, analysis, and research.

Historical-cultural monuments: They are monuments that have one or more cultural, historical, artistic or event location values. The historical-cultural monument may belong to the contemporary period.

Museum: This is a permanent and non-profit institute that is open to the public and is used to serve the community and its development. The purpose of museums is to research the artefacts and pieces of evidence left by mankind and the environment, to collect, preserve, and make connections between the artefacts left, especially to display them for study and spiritual utilization.

Tourism: This refers to the activities of people or a group of people who travel to places outside their usual residence for less than one consecutive year with the primary purpose of entertainment, etc., provided that they are not employed by any institution in the visited destination.

Domestic tourism: This is a collection of tourism activities by residents of a country within the borders of that country.

Inbound tourism: This refers to a visitor coming into a country, provided that their stay is at least one night and a maximum of one consecutive year.

Outbound tourism: This is a collection of tourism activities by residents of a country outside the borders of their own country.

Tourist: This refers to a visitor (domestic, inbound, or outbound) whose travel lasts at least one night and a maximum of one consecutive year.

Personal purposes of travel: They are the purposes containing cases that mainly depend on the individual or the individual's family components. These purposes directly connect the advantages of travel to the individual or their family. The World Tourism Organization considers the mentioned purposes to be leisure, recreation and entertainment, visiting friends and relatives, education/training, health and medical care, pilgrimage and religious activities, shopping, and transit stops.

Tourism with the aim of leisure, recreation and entertainment: This category includes activities such as sightseeing, historical sites, cultural sites, and places built for entertainment, watching sports and cultural events, performing a variety of sports in a non-professional way, and also for honeymoon, etc.

Tourism with the aim of pilgrimage and religious activities: This category consists of participating in religious and pilgrimage places and ceremonies or performing religious activities such as Hajj.

Pilgrims of Rahian-e Noor: This refers to any persons or a group who visits the Holy Defence¹ places and sites.

Traditional gymnasium² (the Zurkhāneh): This is a place with a specific octagonal or circular pit in the centre and a special place for Morshed (coach) where traditional sport (Varzesh-e Bastani) is performed.

Public sport: This refers to a sport that improves hilarity, and physical and mental health, can form social relationships, and provides an opportunity for all people to participate.

Track: This is a sports venue with a specific route constructed according to sports type based on the technical standards to practice the exercises and competitions.

Sports hall: This is an indoor (covered) place constructed based on technical standards for sports activities in a specific field.

Sports club: This is a sports venue concentrated in a building area with shared or separate welfare facilities.

Sports complex: This is a large area consisting of sports places or buildings with separate facilities and equipment to perform activities for multiple sports simultaneously. The terms "sports complex" and "sports club" are no longer considered synonymous as of the year 1395 and have different meanings.

1. Due to the outbreak of the coronavirus, several museums and historical monuments have been closed.

2. The increase in the number of visitors in various Ostans is attributed to the opening of new museums, the collection of statistics from museums supervised by other organizations and the private sector, and the rise in the number of tourists and visitors following the outbreak of the coronavirus.
