

INDEX

Index titles (keywords) are selected from the tables of the country's statistical yearbook and arranged alphabetically. In cases where subdivisions of certain headings are necessary, these subdivisions are also listed alphabetically and indented below the relevant headings. The numbers listed next to each index title or subdivision refer to the yearbook's table numbers. The number on the left indicates the chapter number, while the number on the right represents the table number within that chapter. A dashed line between two table numbers means that the keyword can also be found in the tables between those two numbers.
